

An activity of the Professional Division of
The Welding Institute, UK.

The international focus for rail welding technology and practice from TWI

Established in 2001, IoRW has rapidly become the definitive independent organisation concerned with production, maintenance and repair welding of rail. More than 1000 individuals from all sections of the industry participate in IoRW through Corporate Membership.

IoRW provides members with:

- Independent harmonisation of training and competencies
- Dedicated, regular newsletter, Welding Lines
- Highly regarded and informative website, www.iorw.org
- Well attended technical seminars
- Communication of best practice
- Technical enquiry service
- Business briefings

Above all, by attending to all welding issues in an unbiased, independent way, the IoRW has generated a spirit of consensus in the industry.

Participation in IoRW is via Corporate Membership. For a modest fee, companies can join IoRW thereby enabling all their rail welding workforce to benefit from the above services.
